DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Species I, Figures 3, 3A and 3B in the reply filed on January 24, 2007 is acknowledged.

Claims 3-6, 8,9, 12-14, 16, 17 and 20-22 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on January 24, 2007.

Drawings

New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because the lines numbers and figures are not uniformly thick and well defined, clean and durable as well as the numbers are not plain and hand written. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 7, 10, 11 and 15 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bolanos et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,471,756).

Bolanos et al. disclose an instrument (110) having an elongated central portion (that is generally cylindrical-126) defining opposed first and second ends (adjacent to the sizing number 129), a first contact portion (133) having a contact area and extending from the first end of said elongated central portion, a second contact portion (143) having a contact area extending from the second end of said elongated central portion and a relief area defined on the first and second contact portions. The relief areas for providing clearance between the instrument and the medullary canal are considered to be the surfaces 134 and 144. At least one of said first contact portions and said second contact portion comprises a plurality of contact areas. The multiple areas on the contact portions (133 and 144) are considered to be more than one depending on the area defined. With regard to the statement of intended use and other functional statements, they do not impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over Bolanos et al., which is capable of being used as claimed if one so desires to do so. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, the law of anticipation does not require that the reference "teach" what the subject patent teaches, but rather it is only necessary that the claims under attack "read on" something in the reference. Kalman v. Kimberly Clark Corp., 218 USPQ 781 (CCPA 1983). Furthermore, the manner in which a device is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18, 19, 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mikhail (U.S. Patent No. 5,314,493) in view of Bolanos et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,47,756).

Mikhail discloses a method for performing joint arthroplasty comprising resecting a long bone, preparing the medullary canal of a long bone, inserting instruments into the canal, providing a plurality of centralizers for implanting into the medullary canal, determining the appropriateness of the instruments and providing a stem and implanting it into the canal of a long bone. Mikhail discloses the claimed invention except for the use of the measuring instrument as claimed in claim 1. As stated above, Bolanos et al. disclose a measuring instrument for providing a fast and simple technique for measurement of a canal (abstract). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was used the method of Mikhail with the measurement device of Bolanos et al., in order to create a faster and less complicated method for joint arthroplasty.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892 for art cited of interest.
